FOREWORD BY THE MINISTER

Our national curriculum is the culmination of our efforts over a period of seventeen years to transform the curriculum bequeathed to us by apartheid. From the start of democracy we have built our curriculum on the values that inspired our Constitution (Act 108 of 1996). The Preamble to the Constitution states that the aims of the Constitution are to:

- heal the divisions of the past and establish a society based on democratic values, social justice and fundamental human rights;
- improve the quality of life of all citizens and free the potential of each person;
- lay the foundations for a democratic and open society in which government is based on the will of the people and every citizen is equally protected by law; and
- build a united and democratic South Africa able to take its rightful place as a sovereign state in the family of nations.

Education and the curriculum have an important role to play in realising these aims.

In 1997 we introduced outcomes-based education to overcome the curricular divisions of the past, but the experience of implementation prompted a review in 2000. This led to the first curriculum revision: the Revised National Curriculum Statement Grades R-9 and the National Curriculum Statement Grades 10-12 (2002).

Ongoing implementation challenges resulted in another review in 2009 and we revised the Revised National Curriculum Statement (2002) and the National Curriculum Statement Grades 10-12 to produce this document.

From 2012 the two National Curriculum Statements, for Grades R-9 and Grades 10-12 respectively, are combined in a single document and will simply be known as the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12. The National Curriculum Statement for Grades R-12 builds on the previous curriculum but also updates it and aims to provide clearer specification of what is to be taught and learnt on a term-by-term basis.

The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 represents a policy statement for learning and teaching in South African schools and comprises of the following:

- (a) Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statements (CAPS) for all approved subjects listed in this document;
- (b) National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12; and
- (c) National Protocol for Assessment Grades R-12.

SECTION 1: INTRODUCTION TO THE CURRICULUM AND ASSESSMENT POLICY STATEMENT

1.1 BACKGROUND

The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (NCS) stipulates policy on curriculum and assessment in the schooling sector.

To improve implementation, the National Curriculum Statement was amended, with the amendments coming into effect in January 2012. A single comprehensive Curriculum and Assessment Policy document was developed for each subject to replace Subject Statements, Learning Programme Guidelines and Subject Assessment Guidelines in Grades R-12.

1.2 OVERVIEW

- (a) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (January 2012) represents a policy statement for learning and teaching in South African schools and comprises the following:
 - (i) Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statements for each approved school subject;
 - (ii) The policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12; and
 - (iii) The policy document, National Protocol for Assessment Grades R-12 (January 2012) .
- (b) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (January 2012) replaces the two current national curricula statements, namely the
 - (i) Revised National Curriculum Statement Grades R-9, Government Gazette No. 23406 of 31 May 2002, and
 - (ii) National Curriculum Statement Grades 10-12 Government Gazettes, No. 25545 of 6 October 2003 and No. 27594 of 17 May 2005.
- (c) The national curriculum statements contemplated in subparagraphs b (i) and (ii) comprise the following policy documents which will be incrementally repealed by the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (January 2012) during the period 2012-2014:
 - (i) The Learning Area/Subject Statements, Learning Programme Guidelines and Subject Assessment Guidelines for Grades R-9 and Grades 10-12;
 - (ii) The policy document, National Policy on assessment and qualifications for schools in the General Education and Training Band, promulgated in Government Notice No. 124 in Government Gazette No. 29626 of 12 February 2007;
 - (iii) The policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF) , promulgated in Government Gazette No.27819 of 20 July 2005;

- (iv) The policy document, An addendum to the policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF) , regarding learners with special needs, published in Government Gazette, No.29466 of 11 December 2006, is incorporated in the policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12; and
 - (v) The policy document, An addendum to the policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF) , regarding the National Protocol for Assessment (Grades R-12) , promulgated in Government Notice No.1267 in Government Gazette No. 29467 of 11 December 2006.=
- (d) The policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12, and the sections on the Curriculum and Assessment Policy as contemplated in Chapters 2, 3 and 4 of this document constitute the norms and standards of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12. It will therefore, in terms of section 6A of the South African Schools Act, 1996 (Act No. 84 of 1996,) form the basis for the Minister of Basic Education to determine minimum outcomes and standards, as well as the processes and procedures for the assessment of learner achievement to be applicable to public and independent schools.

1.3 GENERAL AIMS OF THE SOUTH AFRICAN CURRICULUM

- (a) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 gives expression to the knowledge, skills and values worth learning in South African schools. This curriculum aims to ensure that children acquire and apply knowledge and skills in ways that are meaningful to their own lives. In this regard, the curriculum promotes knowledge in local contexts, while being sensitive to global imperatives.
- (b) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 serves the purposes of:
 - equipping learners, irrespective of their socio-economic background, race, gender, physical ability or intellectual ability, with the knowledge, skills and values necessary for self-fulfilment, and meaningful participation in society as citizens of a free country;
 - providing access to higher education;
 - facilitating the transition of learners from education institutions to the workplace; and
 - providing employers with a sufficient profile of a learner's competences.
- (c) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 is based on the following principles:
 - Social transformation: ensuring that the educational imbalances of the past are redressed, and that equal educational opportunities are provided for all sections of the population;
 - Active and critical learning: encouraging an active and critical approach to learning, rather than rote and uncritical learning of given truths;
 - High knowledge and high skills: the minimum standards of knowledge and skills to be achieved at each grade are specified and set high, achievable standards in all subjects;
 - Progression: content and context of each grade shows progression from simple to complex;

- Human rights, inclusivity, environmental and social justice: infusing the principles and practices of social and environmental justice and human rights as defined in the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa. The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 is sensitive to issues of diversity such as poverty, inequality, race, gender, language, age, disability and other factors;
- Valuing indigenous knowledge systems: acknowledging the rich history and heritage of this country as important contributors to nurturing the values contained in the Constitution; and
- Credibility, quality and efficiency: providing an education that is comparable in quality, breadth and depth to those of other countries.

(d) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 aims to produce learners that are able to:

- identify and solve problems and make decisions using critical and creative thinking;
- work effectively as individuals and with others as members of a team;
- organise and manage themselves and their activities responsibly and effectively;
- collect, analyse, organise and critically evaluate information;
- communicate effectively using visual, symbolic and/or language skills in various modes;
- use science and technology effectively and critically showing responsibility towards the environment and the health of others; and
- demonstrate an understanding of the world as a set of related systems by recognising that problem solving contexts do not exist in isolation.

(e) Inclusivity should become a central part of the organisation, planning and teaching at each school. This can only happen if all teachers have a sound understanding of how to recognise and address barriers to learning, and how to plan for diversity.

The key to managing inclusivity is ensuring that barriers are identified and addressed by all the relevant support structures within the school community, including teachers, District-Based Support Teams, Institutional-Level Support Teams, parents and Special Schools as Resource Centres. To address barriers in the classroom, teachers should use various curriculum differentiation strategies such as those included in the Department of Basic Education's Guidelines for Inclusive Teaching and Learning (2010) .

SECTION 2: INTRODUCING THE LANGUAGES

2.1 LANGUAGES IN THE NATIONAL CURRICULUM AND ASSESSMENT POLICY STATEMENT

Language is a tool for thought and communication. It is also a cultural and aesthetic means commonly shared among a people to make better sense of the world they live in. Learning to use language effectively enables learners to acquire knowledge, to express their identity, feelings and ideas, to interact with others and to manage their world. It also provides learners with a rich, powerful and deeply rooted set of images and ideas that can be used to make their world other than it is; better and clearer than it is. It is through language that cultural diversity and social relations are expressed and constructed, and it is through language that such constructions can be altered, broadened and refined.

2.1.1 Language levels

Language learning in the Senior Phase includes all the official languages in South Africa, namely, Afrikaans, English, isiNdebele, isiXhosa, isiZulu, Sepedi (Sesotho sa Leboa) , Sesotho, Setswana, Siswati, Tshivenda, Xitsonga – as well as Non-official Languages. These languages can be offered at different language levels.

Home Language is the language first acquired by learners while First Additional language is the language learnt in addition to one's home language. The Second Additional Language is the further language that a learner can learn, that enables broader communication and multilingualism. The language may be in use within the community or culture and will enhance nation building and intercultural understanding. Many South African schools do not offer the home languages of some or all of the enrolled learners but rather have one or two languages offered at home language level. As a result, the names Home Language, First Additional and Second Additional Language refer to the proficiency levels at which the language is offered, and not the native (Home) or acquired (as in the Additional) languages. For the purposes of this policy, any reference to Home Language should be understood to refer to the level and not the language itself.

The Home Language level provides for language proficiency that reflects the mastery basic interpersonal communication skills required in social situations and the cognitive academic skills essential for learning across the curriculum. Emphasis is placed on the teaching of the listening, speaking, reading and writing skills at this language level. This level also provides learners with a literary, aesthetic and imaginative ability that will provide them with the ability to recreate, imagine and empower their understanding of the world they live in. However, the emphasis and the weighting for listening and speaking from Grades 7 onwards are lower than those of the reading and writing skills.

The First Additional Language refers to a language which is not a mother tongue but which is used for certain communicative functions in a society, that is, medium of learning and teaching in education. The curriculum provides strong support for those learners who will use their first additional language as a language of learning and teaching. By the end of Grade 9, these learners should be able to use their home language and first additional language effectively and with confidence for a variety of purposes, including learning.

In South Africa, many children use their additional language, English, as the Language of Learning and Teaching (LoLT) . This means that they must reach a high level of competence in English. They need to be able to read and write well in English.

The First Additional Language level assumes that learners do not necessarily have any knowledge of the language when they arrive at school. The focus in the first few years of school is on developing learners' ability to understand and speak the language – basic interpersonal communication skills. In Grades 2 and 3 learners start to build literacy on this oral foundation. They also apply the literacy skills they have already learned in their Home Language.

In the Intermediate and Senior Phases, learners continue to strengthen their listening, speaking, reading and writing skills. At this stage the majority of children are learning through the medium of their First Additional Language, English, and should be getting more exposure to it. Greater emphasis is therefore placed on using the First Additional Language for the purposes of thinking and reasoning. This enables learners to develop their cognitive academic skills, which they need to study subjects like Natural Sciences, Mathematics, etc. in English. They also engage more with literary texts and begin to develop aesthetic and imaginative ability in their Additional Language.

By the time learners enter Senior Phase, they should be reasonably proficient in their First Additional Language with regard to both interpersonal and cognitive academic skills. However, the reality is that many learners still cannot communicate well in their Additional Language at this stage. The challenge in the Senior Phase, therefore, is to provide support for these learners at the same time as providing a curriculum that enables learners to meet the standards required in further grades. These standards must be such that learners can use their Additional Language at a high level of proficiency to prepare them for further or higher education or the world of work. It is therefore recommended that, where possible, learners in the Senior Phase be exposed to the same concepts in a two week cycle in both language levels.

The Second Additional Language level also assumes that learners do not necessarily have any knowledge of the language when they arrive at school. The focus upon exposure to Second Additional Language is on developing learners' ability to understand and speak the language - basic interpersonal communication skills. In Grades 4 - 6 learners start to build their oral and literacy skills. They also apply the oral and literacy skills they have already learned in their Home and First Additional Languages.

In Grades 7 – 9 learners continue to strengthen their listening and speaking while developing their reading and writing skills.

By the time learners enter Grade 10, they should be able to communicate in their Second Additional Language at both interpersonal and social levels. However, the reality is that many learners still cannot communicate well in their Additional Language at this stage. The challenge in Grades 7-9, therefore, is to provide support for these learners at the same time as providing a curriculum that enables learners to meet the standards required in Senior Phase. These standards must be such that learners can use their additional language at a level of proficiency to prepare them for further or higher education or the world of work.

Specific aims of learning Additional Languages

Learning a Second Additional Language should enable learners to:

- acquire the language skills necessary to communicate appropriately in the target language at a basic level;
- listen, speak, read/view and write the language with growing confidence and enjoyment. These skills and attitudes form the basis for life-long learning;
- express their own ideas, views and emotions with confidence (orally and in writing) , in order to become comfortable in the language;

- use language and their imagination to find out more about themselves and the different cultures and the world around them. This will enable them to express their experiences and findings about the world orally and in writing;
- use language to access and manage communication in other contexts. Information literacy is a vital skill in the 'information age' and forms the basis for lifelong learning;
- use language as a means for expressing information on familiar topics; for interacting with a familiar range of texts; and for reading texts for enjoyment, basic information and communication.

2.1.2 The language skills

The Second Additional Language curriculum is packaged according to the following skills:

1	Listening and Speaking
2	Reading and Viewing
3	Writing and Presenting
4	Language Structures and Conventions

2.1.3 Language Teaching Approaches

The approaches to teaching language in these documents are text-based, communicative, integrated and process orientated.

The text-based approach and the communicative approach are both dependent on the continuous use and production of texts. The text-based approach explores how texts work. The purpose of a text-based approach is to enable learners to become competent, confident and critical readers, writers, viewers and designers of texts. It involves listening to, reading, viewing and analysing texts to understand how they are produced and what their effects are. Through this critical interaction, learners develop the ability to evaluate texts. The text-based approach also involves producing different kinds of texts for particular purposes and audiences. This approach is informed by an understanding of how texts are constructed.

A communicative approach suggests that when learning a language, a learner should have a great deal of exposure to the target language and many opportunities to practise or produce the language by communicating for social or practical purposes. Language learning should be carried over into the classroom where literacy skills of reading/viewing and writing/presenting are learned by doing a great deal of reading and learning to write by doing much writing.

Language teaching happens in an integrated way, with the teacher modelling good practice, the learners practising the appropriate skills in groups before applying these skills on their own. The structure of each lesson should be one that engages the whole class before practising in groups and applying the new skill individually.

The process approach is used when learners produce oral and written texts. The learners engage in different stages of the listening, speaking, reading and writing processes. They must think of the audience and the purpose during these processes. This will enable them to communicate and express their thoughts in a natural way. For example, the teaching of writing does not focus on the product only but also focus on the process of writing. During process writing learners are taught how to generate ideas, to think about the purpose and audience, to write drafts, to edit their work and to present a written product that communicates their thoughts.

Approaches to teaching literature

The teaching of literature should focus on teaching for comprehension and will include the reading process strategies (pre-reading, reading and post-reading) . The main reason for reading literature in the classroom is to develop in learners a sensitivity to a special use of language that is more refined, literary, figurative, symbolic and deeply meaningful than much of what else they may read. While most literary texts are forms of entertainment, amusement, or revelation, serious writers create novels, plays and poems because they have ideas, thoughts and issues, principles, ideologies and beliefs that they most want to share with or reveal to their prospective readers. Their imaginative use of language is an added method of revealing, reinforcing and highlighting their ideas.

The teaching of literature is never easy, but it is impossible without the personal, thoughtful and honest interpretations and comments from the learners themselves. Unless they learn how to understand a literary text on their own, they will not have learned much. Teachers often need to restrain their own interpretations and ideas of literary texts and allow as much learner participation as is reasonable. Interpretation is not about right or wrong. It is about searching for what is meaningful to the reader.

The best ways to approach the teaching of literature would involve some or all of the following.

- Make every attempt to read as much of the text in class as possible without breaking for any other activity. This may take more than the scheduled two weeks for the Second Additional learner. It is essential that learners have a clear idea of what is going on at the most basic level of the text. Some classes can read texts without support. That is to be encouraged. Genres, and the approach to such, should be taught, rather than texts. For example, Poetry should be taught, not poems. Read as many as possible in class and ensure that learners write poems as well.
- Literary interpretation is essentially a university level activity. Learners in this phase do not have to learn this advanced level of interpretation. However, the purpose of teaching literary texts is to show learners how the Second Additional Language can be used with subtlety, intelligence, imagination and flair. This means a close look at how text is being created, manipulated and re-arranged to clarify and emphasise what is being expressed. Such work might involve examining the presence or absence of imagery; what kind of imagery is being selected by the writer and why; sentence structures and paragraphing, or the layout of poems; choice of words, continuing motifs through the text; the use of symbol, sound and colour where appropriate. Most of this work should be text based:
- Creative writing should be closely attached to the study of any literary text. Writing activities that demand a close understanding of the text being read can prove very helpful in reaching more creative levels of appreciation on the part of the learners. Class discussions can be fruitful as long as everyone is involved. But class discussions that lead to written work activities serve a clearer purpose and benefit both.
- Finally, it is important to point out that Literature is not about right answers. A whole text means something, not just bits and pieces of it. A good reading of a text incorporates the whole text in interpretative, creative, personal and exploratory practices.

The other approaches to literature which can be integrated with teaching for comprehension and for understanding the key features of literature are the chronological, the author, the theme and the genre approaches. These approaches can be combined.

In the chronological approach learners can research and combine the literature period with the historical events for the same timeframe.

In the author approach, learners can participate in a broad and deep study of an author especially in poetry and can link his/her poems with a particular historical period.

In the theme approach learners can look at themes such as justice, success, love, etc. across a number of poems or across different genres and relate them to events in real life situations. They can make judgments about the character's actions and comment on the theme.

Regarding the genre approach, learners can classify, compare and contrast different types of literary genre, e.g., the difference between the plots in a novel/short story/drama/folklore.

Approaches to teaching language usage

The teaching of language structure should focus on how language is used and what can be done with language, i.e. how to make meaning, how to attend to problems and interests, influence friends and colleagues, and how to create a rich social life. The teaching of language structures should be a means to getting things done.

The teaching of language structures/grammatical structures should therefore be text-based, communicative and integrated.

The following principles should be taken into consideration when teaching language structures:

- Grammar should be taught for constructing texts in their context of use - it is concerned, in other words, with real language.
- The application of grammar should not be restricted to the analysis of isolated sentences – it should explain the way in which sentences are structured to construct whole texts such as stories, essays, letters and reports which learners learn to read and write in school.
- Use of authentic materials such as dialogues, interviews, must be encouraged
- Link the language structure with functional uses of language in different social settings, e.g. expressing one's thoughts or feelings; introducing people; talking about or reporting things, actions, events or people in the environment, in the past or in the future; making requests; making suggestions; offering food or drinks and accepting or declining politely; giving and responding to instructions; comparing or contrasting things.
- Use classroom activities that relate language forms with functions, e.g. the past tense with a narrative essay and report writing;
- Focus on meaningful tasks. Acquiring the grammatical rules of the language does not necessarily enable the learner to use the language in a coherent and meaningful way. What interests us then concerns the structure and function beyond the sentence level, i.e. the way in which people use either spoken language (discourse) or written language (text) in coherent and meaningful ways.
- The issues of pronunciation and intonation should not be penalized unless they create communication breakdown.

2.2 TIME ALLOCATION FOR THE SECOND ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE

In a two-week cycle the following time allocation for the different language skills is suggested:

SKILLS	TIME ALLOCATION PER WEEK (HOURS)	TIME ALLOCATION PER TWO WEEK CYCLE (HOURS)	%
Listening & Speaking	2	1	25
Reading & Viewing: Comprehension & Literature		1	25
Writing & Presenting		1	25
Language structures and conventions (this is also integrated into the 4 skills)		1	25

The teaching time for Second Additional Language is 2 hours per week. All language content is taught within a two-week cycle (4 hours) . Teachers do not have to stick rigidly to this cycle but must ensure that the language skills, especially reading and writing are practised. The time allocation for the different language skills in Grade 7-9 is 36 weeks. Four weeks are for examination purposes – two weeks for June examination and another two weeks for December examination.

2.3 LEARNING AND TEACHING SUPPORT MATERIALS

Learners should have the following for Second Additional Language study in Grades 7 – 9:

GRADES 7 – 9
CORE MATERIALS
Prescribed language textbook	✓
Dictionary	✓
One of the following approved/prescribed literary *genres
Short Novel	✓
Short stories	✓
Folklore	✓
Short Drama	✓
Poetry	✓
MEDIA MATERIALS
Newspapers	✓
Magazines	✓
Radio talks/dramas	✓
Television shows/dramas/documentaries	✓

 Learners must have been exposed to three genres by the end of the phase, for example, one genre per grade.

Second Additional Language teachers should have:

- a) A Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statement
- b) Language in Education Policy
- c) The prescribed language textbook used by learners and other textbooks for resource purposes, in addition to the prescribed one
- d) Dictionary (monolingual, bilingual, multilingual, thesaurus)

- g) Access to audio/visual aids to be used in the classroom
- h) Other media resources (a variety of newspapers, magazines and brochures)

Classroom resources

- a) A range of texts to accommodate different reading levels, e.g. a selection of readers with sufficient copies of texts at each level for the class.
- b) A variety of media materials: newspapers, magazines, brochures, flyers, advertisements, posters, notices, etc.
- c) Audio/visual aids

SECTION 3: CONTENT AND TEACHING PLANS FOR LANGUAGE SKILLS

This section is divided into TWO components: an overview of the skills, content and strategies and the Teaching Plans.

3.1 LISTENING AND SPEAKING

Listening and speaking are different but interdependent skills. Both are continually present informally in the classroom as learners receive and discuss information. Formal listening and speaking of special forms, e.g. role play or dialogue, need focused instruction. Formal and informal listening and speaking are integrated with reading, writing and language practice, and while speaking may give written text an oral form (e.g. reading aloud) .

LISTENING

Listening process

Listening instruction will usually involve working through elements of the listening process. This is a three-phase activity which models independent listening strategies for decoding and understanding speech and other audio forms. Not every step of the process will be used on every occasion. For example, if learners are listening to a recorded explanation they may need to do a reading as a pre-listening activity which alerts them to the need for focused listening and helps them make associations with their own experience. Listening activities would help them recall details. Post-listening might involve learners in responding to what they have heard by answering simple questions.

Listening comprehension exercises and assessment give an opportunity to teach learners how to listen.

Listening process

1. Pre-listening introduces learners to the listening situation. It allows them to activate their previous knowledge of the topic, and prepare for listening.
 - Stimulate/activate background knowledge before listening, so that their knowledge of that particular type of discourse is activated.
 - Predict what text may be about from title/discuss theme of text
 - Deal with any key vocabulary that learners may not be familiar with
 - Set a pre-listening question to focus learners' attention
 - Prepare learners physically with, for example, pencil and pad for note taking
2. During listening learners pay attention for various purposes:

(Note that it is good practice for learners to listen to a text several times, focusing on a different aspect each time.)

2.1 Listen for specific information

- Search for meaning; identify main and supporting ideas
- Constantly check understanding of message by making and confirming predictions and through questioning

- Make meaningful notes; outline, map, categorize, summarise, retell, following instructions
- Be aware of speaker/presenters' body language and other visual cues

2.2 Listen for interaction

- Use turn-taking conventions in conversations or group work
- Ask questions to sustain communication
- Respond to language, gestures, eye contact and body language
- Signal interest and attention appropriately through expression, posture etc
- Use the appropriate conventions to be polite and show respect for others

2.3 Listen for appreciation

- Respond to the aesthetic qualities of oral text, e.g. rhythm, pace, sound effects
- Respond in communication situations
- Use turn-taking conventions in conversations
- Defend a position
- Ask questions to sustain communication
- Respond to language, gestures, eye contact and body language
- Show understanding of the relationship between language and culture by showing respect for cultural conventions

3. Post-listening follows up on the listening experience. Learners

- Answer questions
- Review notes
- Summarise
- Transfer information from oral to written mode, e.g. use information to label a picture
- Synthesise new information with prior knowledge
- Draw conclusions, give own opinion;

SPEAKING

Speaking instruction needs to recognise a wide range of informal and formal speaking situations, from casual conversation to formal speaking. Speaking clearly, fluently, coherently, confidently and appropriately should be the aim of teaching speaking.

The teaching of speaking should include knowledge of the process and communication strategies.

The speaking process and strategies

The speaking process consists of the following stages:

- Planning: researching and organising
- Practising
- Presenting

Formal speaking and presenting

The formal speaking process will usually involve the above-mentioned three stages. Formal presentation forms may involve a written or oral version which teachers may assess.

1. Planning: researching and organising

Learners demonstrate planning, researching and organising skills for oral presentation. They

- Use resources and reference materials to find and select information
- Organise and write information; note-taking;
- Use an effective introduction and conclusion,
- Develop ideas orally in a logical manner
- Use objects, audio and/or visual aids to enhance the appeal and accuracy of presentations

2. Practising and presenting

Learners demonstrate practising and oral presentation skills. They

- Use appropriate forms of address
- Show an awareness of audience;
- Show an awareness of situation: formal or informal speech
- Express own opinion
- Use correct language structures and conventions
- Use appropriate verbal and non-verbal techniques to reinforce meaning, e.g. tone, voice
- projection/modulation, volume, pace/tempo, phrasing, eye contact, facial expressions, gestures and body language
- Strive to speak with appropriate, clear intonation and pronunciation

Informal speaking and group work (see “Features and conventions of oral communication” below)

- Initiate and sustain conversations
- Ask and respond to questions to sustain communication
- Use turn-taking conventions
- Clarify meaning where appropriate
- Respond to language, gestures, eye contact and body language
- Signal interest and attention appropriately through expression, posture and gesture

3.2 READING AND VIEWING

Reading/viewing combines two elements: 1) learning and applying strategies for decoding and understanding text 2) learning and applying knowledge of text features. Both aspects should be present in reading/viewing instruction of literary and non-literary texts.

Reading/viewing content is arranged in: 1) reading for comprehension and 2) extended independent reading.

Reading process

Reading instruction will usually involve working through elements of the reading process. This is a three-phase activity which models independent reading strategies for decoding and understanding text. Not every step of the process will be used on every occasion. For example, if learners are reading an unfamiliar text type or genre, they will need to do a pre-reading activity which alerts them to surface features of this text type, and helps them make associations with their own experience. Reading activities would help them analyse its structure and language features in more detail. Post-reading might involve learners in trying to reproduce the genre in a written text of their own.

Reading and viewing process

1. Pre-reading introduces learners to the text. It activates associations and previous knowledge.
 - Skimming and scanning text features: titles, headings, subheadings, captions, visual elements and graphic information, e.g., layout, icons, illustrations, graphs, charts, diagrams, maps, key words, word searches, pictures etc.
 - Predicting using the information gained from skimming and scanning
 - Dealing with any key vocabulary that may be unfamiliar to the learners
2. Reading involves making meaning of the text and paying close attention to its language features
 - Actively making sense of the text
 - Deducing the meaning of unfamiliar words and images by using word attack skills and contextual clues
 - Using comprehension strategies: making connections, monitoring comprehension, adjusting reading speed to text difficulty, re-reading where necessary, looking forward in the text for information that might help, asking and answering questions (from lower to higher order) , visualizing, inferring, reading for main ideas, attending to word choice and language structures, recognizing the text type by its structure and language features
 - Making notes or summarising main ideas.
3. Post-reading enables the learners to view and respond to the text as a whole.
 - Answering questions on the text from lower order to higher order;
 - Comparing and contrasting;
 - Drawing conclusions and expressing own opinion
 - Reproducing the genre in writing of their own (where appropriate)

Examples of question types

Knowledge questions	Who... ? What...? Where ?
Comprehension questions	Who is the father...?
Application questions	Can you make a sentence with this verb? Can you make similar sentence with this word?
Analysis questions	Is this similar to ...? Is this different to ...? Why does this character like ...? True and False
Evaluation questions	Which of these do you prefer?

Selecting a text-type or genre

Teachers should ensure that learners read a range of texts and genres during the year. There should be a balance between reading texts for comprehension, communication and enjoyment.

INTENSIVE READING1.1 Intensive reading of shorter written texts for COMPREHENSION at a word level

Learners apply a variety of strategies to decoding texts. They build vocabulary through word-attack skills and exposure.

- Use dictionaries and other reference works to determine the meaning, spelling, pronunciation and parts of speech of unfamiliar words
- Identify the meaning of common prefixes (e.g., bi-, un- or re-) and common suffixes (e.g. -ful) .
- Determine the meaning of words and their connection to word families using knowledge of common roots, suffixes and prefixes
- Use textual context (e.g., in-sentence definitions) , cues (e.g., commas, quotes) and graphic cues (e.g. bold face) to determine the meaning of unfamiliar words
- Recognize and use common, idioms and proverbs, e.g. the Midas touch.
- Identify the origin and use of new words, e.g. street slang, borrowed words (e.g. ubuntu, dorp, bunny chow) .
- Distinguish between commonly confused words: homophones, homonyms, synonyms, e.g. allusion/illusion; complement/compliment; imply/infer
- Recognise some abbreviations
- Apply knowledge of grammar to decode meaning.

1.2 Intensive reading of shorter written texts for COMPREHENSION at sentence and paragraph level

Learners apply their grammatical knowledge to understand sentence construction and the organisation of texts. Text study at this level provides an opportunity for integrated teaching of language structures.

- Identify and use the meaning and functions of language structures and conventions in texts:-

1.3 Intensive reading of shorter written texts for COMPREHENSION at a whole text level

Learners apply their knowledge of genre to understand the meaning, intention and effect of the whole text

- Relate the text to their own experience
- Draw conclusions; form own opinion

1.4 Intensive reading of shorter texts for SUMMARY AND NOTE TAKING.

Learners apply their understanding of text features to summarise text. See reading strategies above.

- Skim and scan for main ideas and theme
- List main ideas

1.5 Intensive reading of MULTIMODAL AND VISUAL TEXTS (Multimodal texts make use of visual and written material in a single text e.g. advertisements, cartoons. They can also combine this with spoken language and gesture.)

Learners apply their knowledge of images and visual elements to understand how these support writing in multimodal texts.

Identify and discuss the purpose and message of visual texts created for enjoyment and entertainment, e.g. film, cartoons, music videos, comic strips

READING OF LITERARY TEXTS/GENRES

Learners read to enjoy and appreciate literary texts/genres and they respond to questions of comprehension. They understand the basic features of different literary forms, e.g. that a poem has different characteristics from a short story.

EXTENDED INDEPENDENT READING/VIEWING

Learners practise the strategies modelled in intensive reading for pleasure. Teacher guidance on access and level is crucial to this part of the reading.

- Access libraries and know book storage conventions
- Read/view a variety of whole texts, e.g. books, magazines, newspapers, websites and films after class.

TEXTS USED FOR THE INTEGRATED TEACHING OF LANGUAGE SKILLS GRADES 7 - 9

In addition to literary texts for formal study, texts to be covered in grades 7 – 9 include written, visual and multimedia texts with different purposes. Some texts will be studied for their aesthetic qualities; some texts will be studied as examples and as models for writing

3.3 WRITING AND PRESENTING: PROCESS, CONTENT, STRATEGIES AND TEXTS

Writing and presenting combines three elements: 1) using the writing process 2) learning and applying knowledge of the structure and features of different text types 3) learning and applying knowledge of paragraph and sentence structure and punctuation

Writing process

Writing instruction will usually involve working through the writing process. However, not every step of the process will be used on every occasion. For example, if learners are writing a familiar text type, they will not need to analyse its structure and language features in so much detail. There may also be occasions when teachers need to focus on sentence structure or paragraph writing, or learners write texts without drafts in preparation for the examination.

Selecting a text-type

Teachers should ensure that learners write a range of texts during the year. There should be a balance between different types of texts and writing for different purposes: transactional texts, creative, personal/interpersonal, texts etc. Teachers should choose a text type and an appropriate topic to write about, for example, narrative/descriptive paragraph on the topic: "My favourite food."

Steps in process writingPre-writing

- Expose learners to relevant vocabulary and similar text type.
- Brainstorm ideas for the topic

Planning

- Create a plan for the text using the structure and ideas discussed in the pre-writing stage

- Identify main ideas for example, by using a mind map
- Sequence ideas in a logical order so that they make sense

Drafting

- Write a rough first draft that takes into account purpose, audience, topic and text type
- Choose appropriate words.
- Organise ideas in a logical sequence so that a story makes sense
- Organise ideas and/or images
- Read drafts critically and get feedback from teacher

Revising, editing, proofreading and presenting

- Evaluate their own and others' writing for improvement using set criteria
- Refine word choice, sentence and paragraph structure
- Work on the sequencing and linking of paragraphs
- Use grammar, spelling and punctuation correctly
- Prepare the final draft including layout
- Present the text

Learners apply their knowledge of language structures and conventions to writing texts

Word choice

- Know and use a range of vocabulary
- Know what part of speech a word is and how to use it in a sentence
- Know whether a word is formal, informal, or slang (or offensive) and how to use it appropriately (or not at all)
- Spell words correctly
- Use monolingual and bilingual dictionaries and thesauruses to expand vocabulary
- Keep a personal dictionary or vocabulary book to expand vocabulary

Sentence construction

- Write simple and compound sentences
- Use conjunctions to join clauses in compound sentences: e.g. and, but, or, so, then, yet

Punctuation

- Know and be able to use the following punctuation marks appropriately and accurately: full stop, comma, colon, semi-colon, hyphen, dash, apostrophe, question mark, exclamation mark, brackets, quotation marks

Paragraph writing

- Write paragraphs that are logically sequenced

Register

- Use an appropriate register.

3.6. TEACHING PLANS

This document suggests that each cycle will include one or more units focused on each of the skills: listening, speaking, reading, viewing, writing, presenting and language. Each cycle will provide activities for learners to study, read or view a series of oral, written and visual texts. In each cycle the activities would draw learners' attention to correct grammar and text types. Over a year, approximately 18 of these cycles would cover all aspects of the curriculum in 36 weeks. In addition, the level of difficulty in all areas would increase from term to term and year to year in the Senior Phase. Progression therefore also becomes part of the organizing of learning programmes. This structure gives learners and teachers the opportunity to build context, to consolidate vocabulary, and to become familiar with language structures over two weeks before moving on to other skills. At the same time it offers variety and can be tailored to the interests of a group. For example, "Clothes" is a common teaching theme, but could be followed by a cycle on weather.

Integrated language teaching: the teaching cycle

In practice, integration suggests variety: variety of forms, of activities, of texts and themes (see Suggested Themes – Reference List below). When designing an integrated two-week cycle, the teacher may cluster activities around a topic e.g. Sport. The sequence of lessons in a two-week cycle can follow any order, e.g. a cycle might start with reading, and progress to role play (speaking) which is followed by writing. Any text can be used for the activities outlined below.

The teacher should choose a literary text for study. This may be poems, a short novel, a short story or a short drama (see "Texts used for integrated teaching of language skills.") The teacher may choose to teach any order for teaching texts. If the teacher chooses a longer continuous text such as short novel or short drama it is suggested that it is taught continuously so that learners do not forget details of the message. If a short novel or short drama is chosen, the teacher will need to divide the text into as many units as there is time available. Additional sections of the work will be read as homework or part of the extended reading.

This curriculum presents an explicit grammar focus. In practice language will take about an hour every two weeks, with half taught in context with writing and reading, and half taught explicitly. In addition to planned grammar teaching there will be remedial teaching or revision of language drawn from learners' writing errors.

SECTION 4: ASSESSMENT IN SECOND ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE

4.1 INTRODUCTION

Assessment is a continuous planned process of identifying, gathering and interpreting information about the performance of learners, using various forms of assessment. It involves four steps: generating and collecting evidence of achievement; evaluating this evidence; recording the findings and using this information to understand and thereby assist the learner's development in order to improve the process of learning and teaching.

Assessment should be both informal (Assessment for Learning) and formal (Assessment of Learning) . In both cases regular feedback should be provided to learners to enhance the learning experience.

The assessment of language skills should be integrated. The assessment of a comprehension passage should be linked with language use. The assessment of writing should incorporate topics about things that happen in real life situations.

4.2 INFORMAL OR DAILY ASSESSMENT

Assessment for learning has the purpose of continuously collecting information on a learner's achievement that can be used to improve their learning.

Informal assessment is a daily monitoring of learners' progress. This is done through observations, discussions, practical demonstrations, learner-teacher conferences, informal classroom interactions, etc. Informal assessment may be as simple as stopping during the lesson to observe learners or to discuss with learners how learning is progressing. Informal assessment should be used to provide feedback to the learners and to inform planning for teaching, but need not be recorded. It should not be seen as separate from learning activities taking place in the classroom. Learners or teachers can mark these assessment tasks.

Self assessment and peer assessment actively involves learners in assessment. This is important as it allows learners to learn from and reflect on their own performance. The results of the informal daily assessment tasks are not formally recorded unless the teacher wishes to do so. The results of daily assessment tasks are not taken into account for promotion and certification purposes.

4.3 FORMAL ASSESSMENT

All assessment tasks that make up a formal programme of assessment for the year are regarded as Formal Assessment. Formal assessment tasks are marked and formally recorded by the teacher for progression and certification purposes. All Formal Assessment tasks are subject to moderation for the purpose of quality assurance and to ensure that appropriate standards are maintained.

Formal assessment provides teachers with a systematic way of evaluating how well learners are progressing in a grade and in a particular subject. Examples of formal assessments include tests, examinations, writing tasks, oral presentations, demonstrations, performances, etc. While preparations for formal assessment tasks could be done outside the classroom, the final version should be done under controlled conditions, in the classroom.

Formal assessment tasks form part of a year-long formal Programme of Assessment in each grade and subject.

The following tables provide the formal assessment requirements for Second Additional Languages:

Table 1: Grades 7 - 9

DURING THE YEAR	END-OF-YEAR EXAMINATION
40%	60%
School Based Assessment (SBA) –	End-of-Year Exam Papers

• 2 tests • 6 tasks • 1 examination (mid-year)	Written examinations Language in context, writing and literature (1½ hours)	Oral Assessment Tasks: Listening Prepared speaking Prepared reading aloud The oral tasks undertaken during the course of the year constitute the end-of-year internal assessment.

The forms of assessment used should be age and developmental level appropriate. The design of these tasks should cover the content of the subject and include a variety of tasks designed to achieve the objectives of the subject.

Formal assessments must cater for a range of cognitive levels and abilities of learners as shown below:

COGNITIVE LEVELS	ACTIVITY	PERCENTAGE OF TASK
Literal (Level 1) Reorganisation (Level 2)	Questions that deal with information explicitly stated in the text. • Name the things/people/places/ • Identify the persons • List the facts/names • Describe the place/person/ • Who was the person? • What did the person? • Why did the person? • When did it happen? • Where did it happen? Questions that require organization of information explicitly stated in the text. • List two main points/ideas • Identify the person/persons • Explain what happened • Describe the situation/environment/people	Levels 1 and 2: 80%
Evaluation (Level 3)	These questions deal with judgements concerning value and worth. These include judgements regarding reality, credibility, facts and opinions, validity, logic and reasoning, and issues such as the desirability and acceptability of decisions and actions in terms of moral values. • Do you agree with the character's behavior/statement? • Is the character's attitude/behaviour/action acceptable to you? Give a reason for your answer. • Criticise the character's behaviour. • Select words that describe the person's character the best ...	Level 3: 20%

4.4 PROGRAMME OF ASSESSMENT

The Programme of Assessment is designed to spread formal assessment tasks in all subjects in a school throughout a term

Orals: Learners should do one prepared speaking task, one listening task, and one prepared reading aloud task during the year.

Note:

A test in the Programme of Assessment should not be made up of several smaller tests. Each test should cover a substantial amount of content and should be set for 30 – 60 minutes each and reflect the different cognitive levels as set out for the examination paper.

4.4.2 Examinations: Grades 7 – 9

Format of Examination Paper 1

PAPER	SECTION	TIME
1. Language in context, literature and writing.	A: Comprehension (A range of texts can be used including visual and or graphic texts)	Grades 7 - 9 1½ hours

	C. Literature Any one of the following: Poetry/short stories/short novel/short drama (Contextual questions)
	D Writing Creative (Narrative/Descriptive) paragraph (s) /Transactional (Shorter or longer) text

Content to be covered

Assessment addresses the content as set out in this document. Due to the conceptual progression of the content across the grades, content and skills from Grades 7 –9 will be assessed in the papers at the end of each year.

Oral Assessment Task: Paper 2

The oral assessment tasks undertaken during the course of the year constitute the end-of-year internal assessment. The details for the oral tasks, which are administered during the year, are as follows:

PAPER 2	DETAILS
Orals	*Orals will be internally set, internally assessed and internally moderated. • Reading Prepared reading aloud Assess: Understanding of text, conveying meaning, use of voice, correct pronunciation • Speaking: Prepared speaking Assess: Planning and organisation of content, tone, speaking, and presentation skills, audio-visual aids, correct language • Listening Listening Comprehension Assess: Listen for comprehension and information

Orals: Oral year mark from cumulative speaking, listening and reading. Final mark should include at least one prepared speaking task, one listening task and one prepared reading aloud task.

The tasks that are used for formal assessment are recorded and are used to determine whether a learner should progress or be promoted to the next grade.

The teacher must plan and submit the annual formal Programme of Assessment to the School Management Team (SMT) before the start of the school year. This will be used to draw up a school assessment plan in each grade. The school assessment plan should be provided to learners and parents in the first week of the first term.

4.5 RECORDING AND REPORTING

Recording is a process in which the teacher documents the level of a learner's performance in a specific assessment task. It indicates learner progress towards the achievement of the knowledge as prescribed in the Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statements. Records of learner performance should provide evidence of the learner's conceptual progression within a grade and her/his readiness to progress or being promoted to the next grade. Records of learner performance should also be used to verify the progress made by teachers and learners in the teaching and learning process.

Reporting is a process of communicating learner performance to learners, parents, schools, and other stakeholders. Learner performance can be reported in a number of ways. These include report cards, parents' meetings, school visitation days, parent-teacher conferences, phone calls, letters, class or school newsletters, etc. Teachers in all grades report in percentages against the subject. The various achievement levels and their corresponding percentage bands are as shown in the Table below.

CODES AND PERCENTAGES FOR RECORDING AND REPORTING

RATING CODE	DESCRIPTION OF COMPETENCE	PERCENTAGE
7	Outstanding achievement	80 – 100
6	Meritorious achievement	70 – 79
5	Substantial achievement	60 – 69
4	Adequate achievement	50 – 59
3	Moderate achievement	40 – 49
2	Elementary achievement	30 – 39
1	Not achieved	0 - 29

Teachers will record actual marks against the task by using a record sheet; and report percentages against the subject on the learners' report cards.

4.6 MODERATION OF ASSESSMENT

Moderation refers to the process that ensures that the assessment tasks are fair, valid and reliable. Moderation should be implemented at school, district, provincial and national levels. Comprehensive and appropriate moderation practices must be in place for the quality assurance of all subject assessments.

4.6.1 Formal Assessment

- Grades 7 and 8 tests and examination are internally moderated. The subject advisor/appointed provincial/district official must moderate a sample of these tasks during his/her school visits to verify the standard of tasks and the internal moderation.
- Grade 9 tests and examinations must be moderated at district and provincial level. This process will be managed by the provincial education department.
- Subject advisor/appointed provincial/district official must moderate samples of tests and examination papers before they are written by learners to verify standards and guide teachers on the setting of these tasks.

4.6.2 Oral Assessment Tasks

- Grade 7 - 9: Each oral task which is to be used as part of the Programme of Assessment should be submitted to the head of department or subject head for moderation before learners attempt the task. Teachers should then assess the oral assessment tasks.
- The subject advisor or an assigned provincial moderator must moderate a sample of oral assessment tasks during his/her school visits to verify the standard of tasks and the internal moderation.
- A moderator delegated by the department of basic education must moderate a sample of oral assessment tasks for grade 9.

4.7 GENERAL

This document should be read in conjunction with:

4.7.1 The National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement, Grades R – 12; and

4.7.2 The National Protocol for Assessment Grades R – 12.

GLOSSARY

Active listening – when a person tries to put themselves in the place of the speaker and listens seriously to what he or she has to say.

acronym -a pronounceable word formed from the first letter or letters in phrase or name, e.g. ANA (Annual National Assessment) , SONA (State of the Nation Address) , SASA (South Africa's Schools Act) additional language - (also see home language) - a language learned in addition to one's home language additive multilingualism - when a person learns a language (or languages) in addition to his or her home language. This language does not replace the home language but is learned alongside it. In an additive multilingual programme, the home language is strengthened and affirmed while any further language learned is seen as adding value (e.g. all Additional Languages, including the Language of Learning and Teaching are taught alongside the home language but do not replace it)

aesthetic - 1. sensitive to the beauty of language and thus sensitive to and appreciative of the lasting value of texts

2. an aesthete is a person sensitive to artistic beauty. "Aesthetic" refers to the beauty to be found in a work of art. One can discuss the aesthetics of a work, or make aesthetic judgements alliteration -a pattern of sound that includes the repetition of consonant sounds. The repetition can be located at the beginning of successive words or inside the words.

ambiguity - double meaning created by the way in which words are used; when used unintentionally, ambiguity obscures the meaning (e.g. 'General flies back to front' or 'Short children's stories are in demand') analogy - 1.finding similarities in things that are usually seen as different.

2. finding similarities in things that are usually seen as different, a way of explaining or illustrating something, but not a proof. One must be alert to false analogy. There should be accurate correspondence between the thing that is explained and the details of the analogy anecdotes - narratives of small incidents or events told for the purpose of information, entertainment, humour, malice, or to reveal character animation – the technique of using a series of still pictures to create an illusion of movement or life anticlimax – when an expectation of some high point of importance or excitement is not fulfilled or the seriousness of a literary plot is suddenly lost as a result of a comical, digressive or meaningless event antithesis – the expression of two opposed or different ideas in balanced contrast (e.g. 'more haste, less speed') antonym – a word that is opposite in meaning to another word in the same language (e.g. 'happy' and 'sad')

Aphesis – In this case, you have dropped the unstressed vowel at the beginning of the word. These are often unintentional and casually spoken versions of the words. Perhaps the best example is 'cause instead of because.
