HOSPITALITY SERVICES

NQF LEVEL 2

September 2007

INTRODUCTION

A. What is Hospitality Services?

Hospitality Services contains the broad knowledge, skills and values required in the food service and accommodation fields. The subject is biased towards the food service field but sufficiently touches on accommodation elements to enable the student to enter and progress in that field. Hospitality Services equips students with increased levels of food services competencies. Students will, amongst others, be able to provide counter and takeaway services, table and drink services and silver service as well as prepare and serve cocktails.

B. Why is Hospitality Services important in the Hospitality programme?

Hospitality Services provides students with practical, marketable skills to enter the hospitality industry as an employee or entrepreneur. The subject empowers students to understand the importance of excellent service in the hospitality industry and instils principles such as planning, organisation, productivity, discipline, neatness and hygiene. It produces students with practical food service and accommodation skills that can be applied in wide hospitality contexts.

C. The link between Hospitality Services Learning Outcomes and the Critical and Developmental Outcomes

Hospitality Services will develop communication and problem-solving skills in relation to food and beverage operations. Students will be aware of and understand the importance of cultural uniqueness and service excellence in the hospitality industry. Students will be able to understand and practice the aesthetic value of food and beverages and demonstrate an understanding of ethics and values which relate to the hospitality industry. Students will be able to apply the important principles of teamwork by developing interdependence and self-discipline. Lastly, students will be able to use technology effectively and critically, showing responsibility to the environment and the health, safety and security of others in the hospitality industry.

The following Critical Outcomes are addressed by Hospitality Services:

- Identify and solve problems in which responses display that responsible decisions, using critical and creative thinking, have been made.
- Work effectively with others as a member of a team, group, organisation or community.
- Organise and manage oneself and one's activities responsibly and effectively.
- Collect, analyse, organise and critically evaluate information.
- Communicate effectively using visual, mathematical and/or language skill in the modes of oral and/or written presentation.

D. Factors that contribute to achieving Hospitality Services Learning Outcomes

Students with an interest in food, drink and accommodation services will find the subject exciting and challenging. The subject will suit students who want to work with people and who wish to acquire high levels of service skills. It requires students to work individually and in teams in an organised and disciplined manner. Students must be able to follow instructions and take responsibility for their actions.

8.1. Physical resources

8.2. Human resources

1 DURATION AND TUITION TIME

This is a one-year instructional programme comprising 200 teaching and learning hours. The subject may be offered on a part-time basis provided the student meets all the assessment requirements.

Students with special education needs (LSEN) must be catered for in a way that eliminates barriers to learning.

2 SUBJECT LEVEL FOCUS

The student is able to:

- Complete the set-up of hospitality service areas for a variety of food and beverage and accommodation services and styles.
- Operate as a food service or accommodation assistant in a hospitality environment

3 ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS

3.1 Internal assessment (50 percent)

3.1.1 Theoretical component

The theoretical component forms 40 percent of the internal assessment mark.

Internal assessment of the theoretical component in Hospitality Services Level 2 takes the form of observation, class questions, group work, informal group competitions with rewards, individual discussions with students, class, topic and semester tests and internal examinations. Lecturers can observe students when marking exercises from the previous day and asking class questions.

Assignments, case studies and tests can be completed at the end of a topic. Tests and internal examinations must form part of the internal assessment.

3.1.2 Practical component

The practical component forms 60 percent of the internal assessment mark.

Practical components include applications and exercises. All practical components must be indicated in a Portfolio of Evidence (PoE).

Internal assessment of the practical component in Hospitality Services Level 2 takes the form of assignments, practical exercises, case studies and practical examinations in a simulated environment.

Students may complete practical exercises daily. Assignments and case studies can be completed at the end of a topic. Practical examinations can form part of internal practical assessment.

- Some examples of practical assessments include, but are not limited to:

- A. Presentations (lectures, demonstrations, group discussions and activities, practical work, observation, role-play, independent activity, synthesis and evaluation)
- B. Exhibitions by students
- C. Visits undertaken by students based on a structured assignment task
- D. Research
- E. Task performance in a “Structured Environment”

- Definition of the term “Structured Environment”

For the purposes of assessment, “Structured Environment” refers to a simulated workplace or workshop environment. The practical assessment for Hospitality Services should be integrated with Hospitality Generics, Food Preparation and Customer Services and Human Relations assessments.

• Evidence in practical/application assessments

All evidence pertaining to evaluation of practical work must be reflected in the students' Portfolio of Evidence (PoE). The tools and instruments constructed and used to conduct these assessments must be clear from the evidence contained in the Portfolio of Evidence (PoE).

3.1.3 Processing of internal assessment mark for the year

A year mark out of 100 is calculated by adding the marks of the theoretical component (40 percent) and the practical component (60 percent) of the internal continuous assessment (ICASS).

3.1.4 Moderation of internal assessment mark

Internal assessment is subjected to internal and external moderation procedures as set out in the National Examinations Policy for FET College Programmes.

3.2 External assessment (50 percent)

A National Examination is conducted annually in October or November by means of a paper(s) set and moderated externally. A practical component will also be assessed.

External assessment details and procedures are set out in the Assessment Guidelines: Hospitality Services (Level 2).

4 WEIGHTED VALUES OF TOPICS

TOPICS	WEIGHTED VALUE
1. Glassware	5
